PRODUCTION OFFICE INTERNSHIP

Company Overview

Midwinter Studios is a small independent film and media production company based in Chicago. We love comedies, we love dramas, and we are happiest when there is a bit of edge to it. We are actively looking for new material and we are constantly developing our own ideas. Current projects include:

- The Scenesters, a feature film making its way through the film festival circuit including Slamdance Film Festival in January 2010.
- Mayan Jumble, an iPhone puzzle game released in December 2009. We are currently looking for ways to virally market this game.

Production Office Internship

We are seeking a production office intern to assist in with many of the tasks related to the development of our projects and organization of our company.

Major tasks will likely include:

- Updating our database of distributors, including identifying which movies or projects the distributors have done that might be most like The Scenesters;
- Researching and developing assumptions for potential self-distribution scenarios including theater costs, DVD sales, VOD rentals, etc.;
- Researching and organizing past film festival winners (length, genre, awards, director, distributor, etc.);
- Reviewing potential scripts, concepts, and business plans;
- Developing our Midwinter Studios business plan.

The hours are generally flexible, estimated at approximately four to six hours per week. The position is unpaid, although we will work with the right candidate for school credit as needed.

Skills

The ideal candidate will be somebody who is

- Creative, dependable, and organized, able to work independently with direction;
- Engrained with a “roll-up your sleeves” attitude;
- Enthusiastic with new ideas;
- Passionate about media and entertainment; and
- Experienced with Word and Excel. Being comfortable with Office software is a must.
